Mike Chenoweth

What I value most is staying in the lineup and working to ensure the best outcomes for clients.

One of Radius' founding members in 2002, Michael Chenoweth's career in commercial real estate officially began after graduation from college in 1993. But years before it was his father, a commercial broker, who instilled in him a passion for the industry. "He taught me the ropes, taking me to meetings with him in LA and sharing a great deal of his knowledge."

One of the more critical skills he learned was the importance of listening to the needs of clients, something Michael applies every day.

A lifelong Santa Barbaran, with nearly 30 years of experience in the South Coast real estate market, Michael has the necessary knowledge to provide landlords, tenants and investors with the information they need to make informed decisions about the leasing and sale of commercial property.
