Wake up early and get the day going

That get-up-and-go drive was instilled in Rob Hambleton at a young age, growing up in an active family of outdoor enthusiasts. It fueled him to success as a sprinter and decathlete at UCLA, later as a broker at Radius, and ultimately as a proud father to Audrey (4) and Robby (2).

“I work every day to be a better person, as a husband, father, commercial broker,” Rob says. “Staying engaged and being present, whether I’m surfing, skiing with my wife, playing with the kids or advising clients, that’s what I strive for.”

Rob joined Radius in 2010 after working as an asset manager, and quickly set out to hone his expertise in leasing and sales by focusing on understanding the market and being an advocate for his clients.

“Asking the right questions and really listening to what’s being shared with you, that’s critical to getting to the heart of someone’s needs and arriving at their best options.”
